

The Flint Hill Falcons' Publishing Center was established to encourage all children to find success through the creative writing process. To be a success, the Publishing Center needs parent volunteers in and out of the classroom to help our students develop, write, and illustrate a book of their own.

The Publishing Center provides a student with a sense of accomplishment with a published book, a family keepsake, and a great grandparent gift. At least one parent per classroom is needed to serve as Story Book Editor. This parent will coordinate with the other classroom volunteers.

The Publishing Center is being lead by a team of six who are ready to assist you in anyway from helping with ideas to technology challenges. Books are published through a Flint Hill Elementary account with Clarkcolor. Our end of year goal is to say that 100% of Flint Hill Elementary students are published authors.

The Publishing Center wants you to be a part of this exciting team!

Volunteer Today to be a Story Book Editor

Story Book Editors partner with teachers to coordinate projects and work times. Responsibilities will vary depending on the class project:

- * Pick a class theme
- * Interview authors for bio page
- * Take and upload pictures onto publishing site
- * Work in the classroom to assist with writing or creating pictures
- * Distribute books through Tuesday folders
- * Typing text into the book on the website
- * Scan images onto publishing site
- * Check the final product for errors
- * Manage overall project to make sure each child's book is published.
- * Have a great time and wonderful experience!
